122.T.7: ~~C. KUTZBACH, the youngest addition to the Department staff is a former (German) Minister, who was not without some experience and who left G. I. because he could not stand its chief, Hitler. He appears to have some good political connections in Bonn, exact nature not yet ascertained. He is a good worker, a valuable addition. His inclinations vis-a-vis Americans are not clear yet. KUTZBACH stated that he was studying him to determine to what extent he can be trusted and relied upon on this score. Braff, who deals most closely with him, advises that he harbors no resentment toward Americans and that he seems to want to cooperate as much as possible.~~
